Welcome back to Mypolonga Primary School’s 100th Year!

Rita’s Roar

Welcome Back

We have had an amazing start to the year with our 16 new students settling in well. We welcome Renay Persello and Prue McDonald to Team Mypo and we are all looking forward to creating something really special this year. Mikelle, who was originally to take the Year 1/2 class, has been appointed as Principal of Jervois Primary School for the first two terms and we wish her all the best. We are also very happy to announce the addition of Eva Mae (pictured) to both the Perry and Mypo families. After the challenges of Scarlett’s birth, all went well this time around and Hailey and Eva are doing well.

A message to the school community from Hailey follows: ‘Steven, myself and big sister Scarlett are very excited to introduce you all to ‘Eva Mae’ born on 20/1/16. We have been enjoying spending time as a new family of 4 and Scarlett is loving having a sibling!!! Xox’

We have already hit the ground running with a 100th birthday committee meeting on Wednesday night and an Upper Primary tea and information evening on Thursday night, where Mel announced that she and Tom are expecting their second child. The evening was a huge success with great attendance and engagement by parents and kids. We have very high expectations of our Upper Primary students and they are already showing impressive leadership skills and initiative. It’s easy though, when we have great role models like Craig and Yvonne Hobbs and Mark Pahl who cooked the barbie for tea.

Partnerships

I am very proud of the way we work together to achieve amazing things at Mypo. On Friday of Week 3, we will be once again holding our Family Fun Night on the river at Woodlaine Reserve. The purpose of this is to not only meet our staff, but to meet each other and your children’s friends in a relaxed environment. Bonding over a shared meal is a great way to create positive relationships.

We also believe that our voices are equal and we encourage positive participation, especially by our students in decision-making processes. The Governing Council AGM will be held on Monday Week 4, and following that, our committees will meet in Week 7. The Sustainability Committee makes decisions about the school grounds and environment and manages our sustainability programs. Students also have the opportunity to represent the school as Young Environmental Leaders. The Lifelong Learning Community looks at current research, which leads to better engagement and greater challenge and intellectual stretch in learning programs.

Critical Curiosity is alive and well in Mypo!

This year, I have cut back my teaching commitments in the Upper Primary class to teach German from Reception to Year 7. At Mypo we use the Effective Lifelong Learning Inventory (ELLI) as a tool to drive independent learning. One of ELLI’s key dispositions is ‘Critical Curiosity’ where learners engage with learning because they want to, not because they have to. After one week of German, I have been amazed by children who have gone home, downloaded apps, and taught themselves numerous German words and phrases. Some children can already count to 20! This is critical curiosity at its best.

See you at the Family Fun Night!

Warm Regards, Rita

Welcome to the 2016 School Year! My name is Kerry Daniel and I am the School Counsellor here at Mypolonga Primary School. If you need to contact me feel free to ring the school to make an appointment or email me on kerry.daniel277@schools.sa.edu.au I teach on Monday through to Wednesday; Fridays and every second Thursday are my Counsellor days.

I love reading Michael Grose’s blogs so often, I will share this information with you in my Counsellor Corner.

As this is the beginning of the year, I thought this article would be appropriate. I will continue the rest of the article next fortnight.

10 of the best parenting ideas for 2016

Welcome to 2016! Everyone wants to be the best parent they can be, and a new year offers the chance for renewal and rejuvenation. Here are 10 HOT ideas to help you be on top of your parenting game this year.

1. Put gender on your agenda. Gender matters so much. For instance, a recent Australian study into children’s separation anxiety found girls experience higher levels of anxiety than boys when they are 3, but it levels out by age 5. It’s refreshing to see so much research, such as this, now rightfully highlighting gender differences. So start nuancing your parenting to account for gender differences.

2. Give the gift of restraint. At a time when kids receive so much it’s easy to forget that restraint is virtue. Just because you can afford to give kids what they want, doesn’t mean you do. Differentiate between a want and a need and encourage restraint, goal setting and saving in kids. It’ll help them to be successful at school and beyond.

3. Build your developmental knowledge. Lucky you have two eyes, as you need to keep one parenting eye on meeting kids’ current needs and the other on preparing them for their next stage. If starting school or secondary is a year away then start thinking how you can make sure your child is school-ready this year. Not all stages are so obvious so it helps to tune in to the minor changes in your child, as well as purposefully and intentionally building your developmental knowledge.

4. Reinforce self-regulation. “You waited your turn! Great stuff!” “Thanks for packing away the toys without being told.” “Good on you for staying in bed when you woke up rather than come to our bedroom to wake me up.” A child’s ability to self-regulate behaviour (like the ability to self-soothe and selfoccupy) is highly under-rated, and doesn’t come naturally to all kids. That’s where consistent parenting that uses visual management and behavioural consequences comes in.

5. Practise digital parenting. The most tech-savvy current generation ever raised needs digitally aware parents. The Internet is fun and it’s here to stay, but it can pose risks for some kids. Digital parenting means providing guidelines for safety without limiting children’s opportunity to learn and communicate in the online world. It also requires you to understand the digital world that your kids inhabit.

We extend a very big welcome to all our NEW STUDENTS and their families!

The only difference between ordinary and extraordinary is that little extra”.

What is your favourite app?... Pinterest – I find lots of fun activities for our class to do on Pinterest.

How many pets do you own and what are their names?... Lucy is my dog and Charlie is my cat. Justin is my turtle.

What is the best holiday you have ever been on?... Europe in 2014. I travelled around Europe for 5 weeks and had a white Christmas in Venice!

Do you have any brothers or sisters?... I have a big brother Jake and a little sister Kristy.

Who is the best teacher you ever had? Why?... My Year 4 teacher. She was the reason I wanted to become a teacher! She made each lesson super interesting and had the most crafty art lessons. I was so happy when I found out I was having her for Year 5 as well!

School Assembly

Our school assembly is held in the Library every Friday afternoon from 3:00pm, which includes the presentation of awards and students’ work. Students are dismissed following the assembly at 3:25pm. Three students (from the Lower Middle, Middle and Upper primary classes) run the assembly, with names being published in the fortnightly newsletter.

The best gift any parent can give a child is the love of good books and the joy and benefits of good reading. Children who read at home, or are read to, have a head start on reading success in school.

Our school participates in Scholastic Book Club over the year. During the school year, I will send home a Club catalogue. You’ll find award-winning books, as well as old and new favourites.

It is easy to order. Just look over the catalogue with your child, select the books you want, mark them on the order form on the back of the catalogue, and return the order form to me with payment via the Office returns/money slot. Or You can order online at http://www.scholastic.com.au/schools/bookclub/ further information in catalogue. The books will arrive around two weeks after I send the order to Scholastic. There is no obligation to order. If you have any questions please call and I will endeavour to help you.

Thank you, Annie Hughes
